Get to know John:

I have been competing on the Local, National and International dog agility stage for over 15 years. I pride myself in my positive motivation, mental management and coaching with all my students and canine partners. My accomplishments have been earned and realized thru the dedication and training of all my canine partners, for which none of this would have been possible without them all. (Casey, Blink, Rush, Trick and Boss.)

I believe success starts with the proper foundation from the ground up. Success can be realized thru core training techniques, consistency and belief. We all have our own goals and dreams, which can only be measured by our own specific accomplishments. Whether your goals are for personal, local, national or internationally focused, success can be achieved with consistency, persistency, focus and determination. Unleash Your Pawsabilities and together we can get it done.

Often people ask me, “what drives you and what motivates you?” I always reply “for the love of the sport” and to “Imagine the Possibilities.” There is a time when we all have to finally “unleash” it and let’r rip.

The sport I speak of is dog agility and the quote is taken from one of my most admired horse trainers. I will never, ever forget this and it is what motivates me to this day, even if it was over 30 years ago.

So what is an Agility State of Mind? To me, it represents personal success in everything I do and the confidence to realize that success. Not just in dog agility, but with life agility. Success for many comes in many different forms, too many in fact to write. However, for some it maybe an incredible job, love, life and happiness. How does one measure this success? It comes from achieving one’s personal goals, one step at a time and gaining the confidence to challenge yourself to the next level.
